Initials and the success of others in my group.

"When I first led the Gifts and Talents Workshop while working with another congregation, I was skeptical. I mean, this seemed like a backdoor to spiritual gifts. But as I walked through the course, the exercises, and challenged others to do so as well, what I saw happening was the birthing of deeper relationships between participants and then in the end, I watched as God began to move among them. More than a 'gift inventory,' this course is a workshop in getting to know yourself through the eyes of others and in that 'knowing' discovering gifts hidden within which you might never have seen before. It is a remarkable course. Sign up." Pastor Brian
